Editorial

Many readers have expressed mixed reactions to the everchanging face of Transactions. Feedback always helps and the editorial team is delighted to know the new look and outlook of the journal have been noticed. We believe new identities can sometimes effectively convey the spirit of change.

Our commitment to keep Young Geographers well informed about contemporary issues and aware of the emerging core concerns of Indian geography has brought us this far. Against all odds and despite spirilling production costs, we have persisted in maintaining high standards.

I hope our members are listening? We appeal to all, especially to those who have yet to respond to our earlier request for financial assistance

Jaymala Diddee
