Editorial

Time to Say Goodbye!

Suresh Jog, a familiar face among Indian Geomorphologists will be taking on the mantle of editorship of Transactions from January, 2007.

A die hard field enthusiast-he remains to date the most popular teacher at the Pune University's Geography department.

The annual field excursions for the juniors and seniors with SRJ were unforgettable experiences for the new initiates.

An all time favourite with the students because of his informal and affable temperament, Jog has an uncanny knack to resolve with ease any and every problem presented to him – academic or otherwise!

A man for all seasons, Jog's ever ready to venture out into the field, however remote, with indefatigable energy.

Having known Jog as a co-student right through the Masters and Ph.D. degrees, and as a colleague for a quarter of a century, I am confident that Transactions will scale greater heights under his stewardship.
